RECMAR Products, Inc. Acquires Assets of Sonata Products Ltd.

Houston, TX -- August 17, 2006 – Newly formed RECMAR Products, Inc has acquired the operating assets of Sonata Products, Ltd, which had been doing business as Recmar Products.

“By acquiring this established market leader, we look to leverage the company’s strong reputation to springboard future growth,” said RECMAR Products’ President Keith Harrison. “By coupling the operational expertise and product lines with a revitalized business development effort, we fully expect to capture market share while continuing to deliver the same great service and quality that our customers have come to expect.”

Recmar Products is a national leader in the manufacture of drapery hardware systems for heavy-duty Class 8 trucks, boats, and recreational vehicles, having been in business for 32 years. The company’s customer base includes five of the top six heavy truck manufacturers in the US, as well as a variety of leading boat brands. RECMAR Products also produces a line of marine products for recreational boaters, and offers custom injection molding services.

RECMAR Products, Inc is a privately held corporation. A majority ownership stake is held by female investors, establishing RECMAR Products as a Minority (Woman) owned business. All operations will continue in their current Houston location.
